

Kaitlin O’Riley

Acclaimed author Kaitlin O’Riley fell in love with historical romance novels when she was just fourteen years old, and shortly thereafter she began writing her own stories in spiral notebooks. Fortunately for her, none of those early efforts survive today. She is still an avid reader and can often be found curled up on a sofa with a book in her hands. Her debut novel was Secrets of a Duchess, which the RT Book Reviews declared, “added freshness to the genre.” This was followed by One Sinful Night and the popular and well-received Hamilton Sisters Series about five sisters living in Victorian England which includes the titles When His Kiss Is Wicked, Desire in His Eyes, It Happened One Christmas, To Tempt an Irish Rogue, and His By Christmas. A starred review from Publishers Weekly said O’Riley’s writing was “set well apart from the usual romance fare.” Her first foray into paranormal romance was a dreamy vampire novella released in Yours For Eternity, with Hannah Howell and Alexandra Ivy. Her second novella “A Summer Love Affair,” is part of the anthology, Invitation to Sin, with authors Sally MacKenzie, Vanessa Kelly, and Jo Beverley. Kaitlin grew up in New Jersey, but now she lives in sunny Southern California, where she is busy writing her next book.
